Drawings

Figures 3-7 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the admitted prior art of the instant disclosure. The admitted prior art of the instant disclosure, as disclosed in figure 5b of the instant specification for example, teaches a rotary nozzle brick body having a single nozzle hole and another nozzle hole including curved sections meeting all aspects of the above claims since the "safety margins" A and B are dependent upon the use of the brick body and these margins are defined by the relation to holes in a fixed plate, which is not claimed or recited in the instant claims. The brick body of the admitted prior art of the instant disclosure could be mated with some unspecified fixed plate to meet the instant safety margin requirements. It has been well settled that where, as in the instant case, an apparatus shown by the prior art can perform a function recited, even if the function is not taught by the prior art, then the manner or method of use of an apparatus cannot be relied upon to fairly further limit claims to the apparatus itself. See MPEP 2114 and 2115.

Conclusion

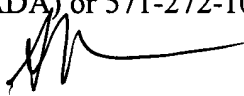

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Each of Yoshihara'807 and Yoshihara'825 are also cited as further examples of prior art rotary nozzle bricks.
